

Remote accounting aces for Nemus Bioscience

Challenge:

- Nemus Bioscience is a Southern California biopharmaceutical company hot on the trail of developing cannabinoid therapeutics (compounds extracted from cannabis plants) that could alleviate certain medical conditions.
- CFO Liz Berezcz had a tough assignment that she knew would require more resources. Through a reverse merger, Nemus quickly became a public company, taking on all the compliance requirements and tight deadlines that go along with that status.

Solution:

- RoseRyan pros dove in to set up the company's accounting infrastructure and monthly close process, and took over ongoing financial reporting, accounts payable, payroll and other needs.
- Working remotely, RoseRyan seamlessly gets the job done through the use of cloud-based applications, phone calls and emails, and occasional in-person meetups.
- Nemus relies on RoseRyan's accounting expertise for complex equity transactions and other technical issues that arise. Our seasoned pros are an essential sounding board for the CFO.
- A flexible, scalable outsourced finance team provides more resources exactly where and when it is needed.

Results:

Successful reverse merger

Flawless financial statements

Impressed auditors

Technical support for equity transactions

Accounting functions handled remotely

Efficient remote team
