

Audit Support

Audits are so much easier when you have the right planning and preparation in place. Our dream team assists with planning, expertly prepares financial statements, completes schedules and interfaces with auditors. Mission accomplished.

Pain Points:

- Fact of life: No one enjoys being audited—it's often time-consuming and stressful
- Since audits don't happen every day, many teams struggle to gather information
- Auditors' needs add up fast: schedules, supporting documentation, technical memos
- If you can't meet auditors' expectations, delays and costly overruns will occur
- A delayed audit opinion has a ripple effect on SEC filings and financing deals

Solution:

- Tap outside experts who go through the audit process often and know what to do
- Be prepared early on with schedules and documentation that match auditors' needs
- Lean on the guidance of experts who speak "auditor" and manage the entire process
- Fill a key skills gap with a finance pro who will prep your technical accounting memo
- Focus on your day job while an auditing ace keeps things moving and resolves issues

Benefits:

- A streamlined audit process that conquers tough timelines
- Accurate audit schedules, with proper documentation
- Efficient project management (we're your point person and keep the audit moving)
- An advocate who's on your side while the audit nears completion
- Proactive, pragmatic, resourceful support along every step

Audits require preparation, ongoing support, specialized expertise and lots of understanding.
