

Emerging Growth

Get to the next level with our full stack CFO solution, which provides strategic insights from CFO and controller experts, along with all the finance operations of day-to-day accounting.

Pain Points:

- Many businesses are big on dreams but short on resources, capital and expertise
- Any missing layer to the finance function puts doubt on decisions
- Startups require financial leadership, meaningful forecasts and accounting know-how
- Inefficiencies and inaccuracies can bog down decision-makers and halt progress
- Only with reliable information can executives make smart moves

Solution:

- Fill out the finance function with the right skills and expertise, with a solution that can scale with your business
- Rely on a CFO for fundraising, investor interactions, and transformative transactions
- Incorporate a controller's strategic insights, planning, budgeting, and reporting expertise into the team
- Conduct a rapid assessment to identify key gaps in finance and operations
- Set up an integrated accounting system with a proven tech stack of applications
- Ready the company for anything, with FP&A insights, operational accounting best practices, technical accounting expertise, IPO support, and other solutions

Benefits:

- Management can focus on the business—not accounting matters
- A solid finance foundation of smooth-running systems, cash management
- Accurate and reliable financial reporting that supports today's operations and decision-making, with an eye on tomorrow's needs
- Significant efficiencies from a tech stack of integrated applications
- Specialized expertise, across all levels of the finance function

We'll set you up with the right financial foundation for growth.
