

TEAM UP WITH COST ACCOUNTING EXPERTS WHO KNOW ABOUT THE MANY LAYERS OF MANUFACTURERS' OPERATIONS. WE'LL PINPOINT ACCURATE METRICS TO AID YOUR DECISION-MAKING.

Fully grasp the manufacturing costs underlying your business. The lost art of cost accounting is alive and well with RoseRyan's finance pros.

PAIN POINTS:

- Manufacturing operations are a large piece of important business and financial metrics—but few understand it
- Understanding a manufacturer's key drivers became a lost art as manufacturing dwindled in the U.S., and relevant finance talent became scarce
- To grasp how products are performing, management needs to understand the margins for each product line in order to make better decisions
- Lack of visibility in product margins, supply chain constraints, logistics and sales demand impact profitability

SOLUTION:

- Partner with experts who really understand manufacturing financial issues
- Create and implement a new cost-accounting structure to provide better visibility
- Set up operational controls around purchasing and maintaining inventory
- Proactively partner with key stakeholders throughout the business to uncover risks and constraints, and align on strategy
- Tap interim resources to perform cost-accounting efforts until an employee is hired
- Upskill the team to match the company's expanding complexity

BENEFITS:

- Robust manufacturing business metrics for better decision-making
- Increased productivity and gross margins, and improved efficiencies
- True understanding of profitability and financial impact by product line
- Solid information for price negotiations
- Full-service cost-accounting expertise whenever you need it
